THE SCOTTISH MARINE AQUACULTURE AWARDS 2011

Local Fish Farm wins Stewardship Award

Wester Ross Fisheries Ltd are always aiming to better and improve their operations to lessen their impact and improve the ecosystem in which they function. Wester Ross have an Environmental Policy, accredited to ISO14001 standard which outlines their approach on environmental issues, this is the key document that drives all of their operations. Going beyond requirements they are proudly accredited by the RSPCA; meeting the stringent Freedom Food welfare standards, which covers stocking densities, husbandry, feeding, water quality, predation management and environmental impact.

“winning this award in a highly competitive category is strong recognition from the esteemed judging panel of our commitment to environmental responsibility throughout all our activities” Managing Director, Wester Ross Fisheries Ltd.
Gilpin Bradley

Wester Ross have been growing salmon in the Ullapool area since 1978, and now employ a total of 50 staff; 30 of which are based in the Ullapool area. In common with all Scottish Seafood, Wester Ross are experiencing strong demand from all established markets, local, UK and export trade; our unique niche promoting “Hand Reared on Sustainable Fishmeal” is proving popular with our customers, demonstrating that that our customers appreciate that Wester Ross are taking their environmental responsibility seriously.
